- ▣ A monument under which a historic coastguard lookout is buried
- ▣ Completed in 1900 perhaps the crowning glory of the architect Silvanus Trevail
- ▣ A watery end, where the Newquay Lifeboat was wrecked in December 1917
- ▣ Where J T Treffry's incomplete Harbour of Refuge was located
- ▣ Rebuilt in 1835 the cost was rumoured to have been paid for in fish

The entries will be judged firstly on correct locations and then by quality and artistic merit. Judging will be by a panel from Newquay Museum where all the correct images submitted will be displayed as part of a St Piran's Festival activity
